The LSC needs to do succession planning to ensure we have good leaders on the BOD with a diversity in background/ideals. Leadership and diversity are important to ensure future plans are well thought out and enacted.

In addition, The BOD needs to be more strategic (future looking) in focus instead of operational (current activities). The board can't be completely strategic since the LSC does not have a large staff. Currently the board is almost entirely focused on current activities. More of the work needs to be done at the committee level with action taken by the BOD only when it is required (or a change in policy is required).

To determine leadership, the LSC need to have a multi-stage vetting process:

1. Get new people involved in committees
2. Those that do a good job on committees and enjoy it are made committee chairs.
3. Those that demonstrate leadership as committee chairs are put on the slate for election to the BOD.

Of course to do this, several things in our current structure need to change:

1. The LSCs needs committees that are active (actually meet) and produce output. Example, NCS has a senior, age group and technical planning committees that basically meet twice a year in a group (including all coaches at HOD). Maybe these committees should be combined in an operations committee to create items for review at HOD instead of creating a task force every time a new concept is investigated.
2. For succession planning to work, the LSC needs to reduce the size of the BOD significantly since most committee chairs are currently on the BOD. It will also allow the board to more easily focus on strategic issues as opposed to operational issues.

This is the high level vision of the committee. Of course, there are a large number of details that need to be worked out to implement this plan. The committee would like buy in from the BOD before investing the time required to determine how this is implemented.
