OLYMPIC COMPETITION FORMAT

The water polo competition at the Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games comprises men's and women's events.

Men's tournament:

Teams are divided into two groups of six teams. Each team plays every other team in its group (preliminary round). The top four teams in each group will proceed to the quarterfinals, while the remaining four teams are eliminated from the competition. The winners of the quarterfinals will qualify to the semifinals. The winners of the semifinals will play for the gold medal and the losers will play for the bronze medal. The losers of the quarterfinals will play in the classification matches for fifth to eighth place. The winners of the classification matches will play for fifth to sixth place and the losers will play for seventh to eighth place.

Women's tournament:

Teams are divided into two groups of five teams. Each team plays every other team in its group (preliminary round). The top four teams in each group will proceed to the quarterfinals, while the remaining two teams are eliminated from the competition. The winners of the quarterfinals will qualify to the semifinals. The winners of the semifinals will play for the gold medal and the losers will play for the bronze medal. The losers of the quarterfinals will play in the classification matches for fifth to eighth place. The winners of the classification matches will play for fifth to sixth place and the losers will play for seventh to eighth place.

DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE FINA WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS AND THE OLYMPIC GAMES

The International Swimming Federation (FINA) World Championships tournaments comprise of 16 men's and 16 women's teams and are organised in a different format. The number of players on a team roster is 13.

CHANGES SINCE THE RIO 2016 OLYMPIC GAMES

The number of the teams in women's tournament has been changed from eight to 10. The number of the players on a team roster has been changed from 13 to 12 plus one replacement, who may be activated before a match. There has also been a number of rule changes intended to speed up the game, increase the number of actions and make the game more understandable for the audience.

SPORT RULES AND PROCEDURES

Game description

The main object of water polo is to score a higher number of goals than the opposing team in order to win the match. Water polo is played in a pool which is 20m wide and 30m long for men, or 25m long for women. Teams of seven players, including a goalkeeper, are in the water at any one time. Five reserves are on the team bench waiting to take part in the game whenever they are substituted. Unlimited substitutions are allowed. The game is played in four quarters of eight minutes actual playing time. The clock must stop each time the referee blows the whistle. Although playing time is only 32 minutes, a game usually takes a little over one hour to complete. There are two-minute breaks after the first and third period, and a three-minute break after the second period (half time). If one or more players are punished for major rule violations, they are excluded from the game for 20 seconds.

Tiebreak rules

Preliminary round, group ranking:

The preliminary round is played in groups. The matches will be evaluated as follows:

- Each match won = two points
- Each match tied = one point for each team
- Each match lost or forfeited = zero points

Classification in each group is based on the total number of points obtained in the group matches.

(a) If two teams are tied with equal points, ties will be broken as follows:

- The team winning the match between the tied teams shall be placed higher
- If the match between them was tied, then the results against the highest placed team (or teams, if tied) in the group shall be considered, based on goal difference; and if still tied, then based on goals scored
- If still tied, the results against the next highest placed team (or teams, if tied) shall be used in succession until all results have been considered
- If still tied, a penalty shootout competition will determine which team will be placed higher
- If there is more than one tie in a group, the highest placed tie shall be determined first

(b) If three or more teams are tied with equal points, ties will be broken as follows:

- The results among the tied teams shall determine which team is placed highest
- If, at any time during the application of this procedure (b) the tie is partially broken, and the number of tied teams is reduced to two, then the method (a) above shall be used to determine which of the two remaining teams is placed higher
- The comparison shall be made first, upon the points of the matches among the tied teams; second, upon the goal difference; and third, upon goals scored
- If still tied, the matches played against the highest placed team (or teams, if tied) shall be considered, based on goal difference; and if still tied, then based on goals scored
- If still tied, the results against the next highest placed team (or teams, if tied) shall be used in succession until all results have been considered
- If still tied, the teams will play penalty shootout competition to determine which team will be placed highest
- If there is more than one tie in a group, the highest placed tie shall be determined first

The above tiebreaking criteria will be applied after the preliminary round.

For the purpose of calculating either goal difference or goals scored, the goals in any penalty shootout will not be taken into consideration.

During the preliminary round, the classification is based on the total number of points obtained in the group matches.

Final standings:

The teams ranked sixth in each group of the preliminary round (men's tournament only) shall be ranked eleventh and twelfth according to the following criteria:

1. Points achieved in their preliminary round group
2. If the two teams have the same points they will be ranked by goal difference taking into account all games played in the respective group
3. If the two teams have the same goal difference they will be ranked by goals scored taking into account all games played in the respective group
4. If the number of goals scored is the same, they will be tied for eleventh place

The teams ranked fifth in each group of the preliminary round shall be ranked ninth and tenth by applying the same criteria as for teams ranked sixth in each group.

Penalties/disqualification rules

Any player or team official excluded for brutality shall be suspended for a minimum of one match. If more than one brutality occurs as the result of any one incident, the player(s)/team official(s) involved may individually be suspended for one or more matches.

If more than three members of the same team, including team officials, commit offences of extreme violence or brutality in the same match, that team shall be sanctioned with disqualification.

A water polo team, in which more than one player has committed a violation of doping rules, shall be disqualified from the tournament.

Further sanction regarding the team may be decided by FINA or the ruling body of the competition in question (FINA doping control rules).

Protests/appeals

Protests are possible and shall be resolved according to the FINA rules. The TWPC commission shall consider the protest and give recommendations to the jury of appeal.

Jury of appeal

The jury of appeal is the FINA bureau.
