FROM THE DESK OF NCAA PRESIDENT CHARLIE BAKER

Dear students, families and fans,

Thank you for coming, and welcome to the 2023 winter sports championship season. Championship events are the pinnacle of NCAA competition, and we thank you for supporting the student-athletes who make it all possible. Years of sweat, perseverance and fine-tuning their skills have led them here for a chance at a national championship. And to the coaches, event hosts and countless others who make these events possible, thank you for your hard work. The NCAA has more than 500,000 student-athletes and 1,200 schools and conferences across three divisions. You're witnessing the best of the best.

As I begin my tenure as NCAA president, I'm excited to get out and cheer along with you. I'm a former student-athlete. My wife, my brother and two of my three children also were student-athletes. I'm a firm believer that there's no greater experience for young people than college athletics. It opens doors to opportunity, forges friendships and captivates a nation. It teaches young people about accountability, teamwork and hard work. That's why I am working hard to transform the NCAA in this new era of competition, so it can best serve the student-athletes who make it all possible and the fans who support them.

You're witnessing the best of the student-athlete experience. College sports are the envy of the world and set the standard for opening up opportunities for young people.

We hope the memories you create here last a lifetime. Enjoy your experience and thank you for your support.

Charlie Baker
