The SCAC

The Southern Collegiate Athletic Conference (SCAC) is an NCAA Division III conference that has been in operation since 1962.

Currently a 12-member entity with institutions in Arkansas, Colorado, Louisiana and Texas, the SCAC boasts some of the most prestigious colleges and universities in the nation. SCAC schools are consistently ranked among the top colleges and universities in the nation in such respected publications as Barron's, Princeton Review and U.S. News & World Report.

The SCAC is currently comprised of Austin College of Sherman, Texas; Centenary College of Shreveport, Louisiana; Colorado College of Colorado Springs, Colorado; Concordia University (Texas) of Austin, Texas; University of Dallas of Irving, Texas; Hendrix College of Conway, Arkansas; LeTourneau University of Longview, Texas; McMurry University of Abilene, Texas; University of the Ozarks of Clarksville, Arkansas; Schreiner University of Kerrville, Texas; University of St. Thomas of Houston, Texas; and Texas Lutheran University of Seguin, Texas. Effective the 2025-26 academic year, Asbury University of Wilmore, Kentucky joins the conference as a swimming and diving affiliate member.

As members of NCAA Division III, SCAC schools are committed to the core principle that participation in sports should be solely from student interest and enjoyment of athletic competition, and that no financial aid shall be given to any student which is conditional upon athletic ability or participation in intercollegiate sports.

SCAC member institutions support students in their efforts to reach high levels of performance by providing them with adequate facilities, competent coaching and appropriate competitive opportunities with students from similar institutions.

The SCAC and its member institutions are committed to maintaining high academic standards. The member institutions are committed to the principle that a quality college athletics program is beneficial to the well-being of an institution in that it benefits the entire campus community as well as the student-athletes.

On the national athletics stage, the SCAC has had its fair share of success - both in terms of team championships (10) and individual championships (36).

Specific to swimming and diving, the conference has produced 499 all-Americans (254 men, 245 women) and eight individual national champions.

The conference's first individual national title came in 1980 (when the league was known as the College Athletic Conference) as Centre College's Chris Fugman won the 400 individual medley. Twenty three years later, at the 2003 NCAA Swimming & Diving Championships, Matt Smith of Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology won the 100 yard breaststroke to give the league its first-ever individual swimming title under the SCAC umbrella. In 2010, Trinity (Tex.) University teammates Lindsay Martin and Hayley Emerick claimed individual titles in the 1-meter and 3-meter boards, respectively. And at the 2012 NCAA Championships, Jordan DeGayner of Colorado College won the men's 200 free while Ruth Hahn of Trinity (Tex.) University continued the Tigers' diving dominance with an individual title on the 3-meter board. Two years later, the "new" SCAC returned to national prominence as Stephen Culberson of Trinity (Tex.) University won the 100 free at the 2014 NCAA Championships. And in 2024, Neely Burns of Trinity (Tex.) University took home the league's most recent individual national title with a first-place finish in the 400 individual medley.
